

BEST OF JACKSON HOLE 2013 EDITOR'S CHOICE

Best Mexican eats worth the drive: Juan's House of Tacos

Juan and Macaria Herrera own Juan's House of Tacos.

Juan's House of Tacos might be 55 miles away from Jackson, but when that craving strikes, nothing can cure what ails you quite like Juan's. Located right on Highway 89 (you heard it; no turns required) in Thayne, Wyo., this taqueria is easy to pass by unnoticed, but what lies inside is simply a can't miss. In its sixth year on the, ahem, thriving Thayne restaurant scene, Juan's is serving up authentic Mexican food from scratch, and while the menu might look like your usual south of the border offerings, Juan's is anything but. Owner Juan Herrera puts an extraordinary amount of time and care into creating his food just like his mother and grandmother taught him, and the result is fresh, delicious Mexican plates worth the drive, any day of the week. – Claire Rabun

JH Weekly's
5th Annual
Best of
JACKSON HOLE
2013